

Herbst Appliance

When we have a patient with the upper teeth that are protruding, we tend to think that the upper jaw and teeth are too far forward, but this condition is due to a small lower jaw that is further back than it should be. We would then like to stimulate the lower jaw to catch up in growth, and braces like the Herbst appliance help this happen.